Neighbours pledge to 'police' their streets

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

RESIDENTS in Marsh Farm have set up their own 'protection system' conducting patrols and offering support following a serious sexual assault in the area.

Nigel Dominique, from The Non-Violence Alliance (TNVA), said people are offering lifts and 'policing the neighbourhood' to create a sense of security.

Last Saturday a woman in her 30s was assaulted in the early hours of the morning as she walked through the Wauluds Bank Drive underpass.

Bedfordshire Police said it was treating the attack as an 'isolated incident' and that it had increased patrols to 'reassure the local community'.

The force also said a 'dedicated team of officers' are investigating the case.

However, following the assault, residents have been out on patrol and organising lifts for each other.

Mr Dominique said two women from the Justice 4 Leon Briggs campaign, named Pauline and Donna, were leading the initiative along with the TNVA.

He also said there was an issue around 'some of the young lads who think it's okay to assault girls and the girls who think it's okay for them to say nothing about it'.

Mr Dominique added: "The community have come together so if you need a lift home, they will organise a lift."

"They have come together very strongly and it's a joy to watch. Pauline and Donna are really working hard and we have come on board and are leading with them."

Mr Dominique added: "All the women are out on patrol and it's a very strong community. We don't want a community backlash but if the police don't go out that could happen, and we don't want that."

"The community are now doing the police role and they're policing the neighbourhood and they are giving out numbers to people so they can feel safe. We have organised our own protection system and we should not have to do this."

A police spokesman said the force was 'generally supportive of community initiatives like this but would advise people to ensure they take general personal safety precautions such as sticking to well-lit areas and call the police on 999 if they feel in danger'.

'No sense' in council's move to increase tax

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

PROPOSALS to increase Luton Borough Council's tax precept for the fourth year running have come under fire.

The authority (LBC) wants to increase its share of tax by 1.5 per cent, which would add an additional £14.29 to Band B properties.

The ruling Labour party has again rejected the government's offer of a council tax freeze grant, but Liberal Democrat leader Councillor David Franks has said it made 'no sense' for the authority to reject the money.

If councillors vote for the rise on February 23, residents could also face an additional tax rise of 15.85 per cent if a police precept being pushed by the county's Police and Crime Commissioner Olly Martins is backed in May. The move has been criticised by some residents.

John Tucker, of Bracklesham Gardens, who has written to Luton on Sunday, is calling on the council to accept the grant and 'give everyone a break this year'.

He added: "If Olly Martins gets his way we will have to fork out an extra £44.72 a year.

"That's outrageous. LBC has got a reputation for wasting our money."

Finance councillor, Cllr Mohammed Ashraf, said: "Twelve months ago the portfolio holder proposed that there would be a 1.5 per cent increase in this council's part of the council tax in 2015/16, and this budget delivers on that promise.

"It also protects those who are worst-off financially because it continues with a fully-funded council tax support scheme, which means that all those in Luton on full benefit pay nothing. Our neighbours may accept the government's freeze grant but many there on full benefit pay 25 per cent of their council tax bill."

Cllr Franks said: "I really don't know what the Labour council has against Luton council taxpayers."

"It makes no sense to say no to a £719k government grant and then force Luton council taxpayers to pay £85k when it only makes the council £138k better off. They should accept the government offer of the £719k additional grant and leave the council tax unchanged.

"They need to learn that the council has no money of its own at all, every penny they spend is taxpayers' money."

CRASH: A recovery vehicle at the scene

Three men die in M1 collision

THREE men died and a fourth was seriously injured on the M1 in Bedfordshire yesterday following a collision between a car and a double decker coach full of young people.

At 6.46am on Valentine's Day the coach collided with an Audi A3 which was stationary on the hard shoulder between junctions 12 and 13.

The three men in the car, who were pronounced dead at the scene, were taken to Bedford Hospital south wing and inquests will open and adjourn in due course, after which they will be named. Two were from Buckinghamshire and one was from the London area.

The fourth man who was in the car, and is also from Buckinghamshire, remains in the John Radcliffe Hospital in Oxford.

None of the young people on board the coach, which was travelling from Kent, were hurt.

The northbound carriageway between junctions 12 and 13 was closed following the incident and did not reopen until after 2pm. There were long tailbacks with diversions in place.

Bedfordshire Police are investigating the incident and continue to appeal for witnesses. Anyone with information can contact police, in confidence, on 101.

For further updates see our website.

■ The driver of the coach has been arrested in connection with the incident and taken to Luton Police Station for questioning.

Free school's £4.5 million windfall for new site

MORE than £4m has been earmarked for a new free school near the town centre.

Moorlands Free School will get a new site in Osborne Road, able to house more than 500 children, after the government released £4.5m funding for the project.

It will move from its current location in Leagrave High Street and it is hoped the new facility will open by September next year.

Speaking after the announcement, principal Carrie Matthews said: "I'm so thrilled that we've been given the go ahead to build this brand new school.

"It's such an exciting opportunity for me, my teachers, and children to be involved in creating this fantastic new learning environment.

"We can influence the new school - we are involved in planning this, and I'd love to hear from parents and pupils who'd like to get involved."

Contractors will be appointed this month and work will begin on the site in the summer.

FRESH START: The new school site will accommodate over 500 children

All bets off for Scott

ONE unlucky punter was a single Hatters goal away from netting £464,000 on Tuesday.

Twitter user Scott Walker, 21, from Cardiff just needed Luton Town to beat York City to take home almost half a million pounds from a £3 accumulator.

However, the Hatters were only able to draw 2-2 at Kenilworth Road.

Scott needed both teams to score and to predict the correct winner in all of the nine games he had chosen, with the Luton game the only which didn't come good.

The Hatters, who started the day fourth in League Two, were huge favourites to beat York who were in the relegation zone. They battled back from 2-0 down but couldn't find a winner.

Scott tweeted the Hatters: "@LutonTown u cost me £464,617.97 tonight for not getting a 3rd goal!!!! Can u pay me this money please!!"

The club's account replied: "Speechless. Sorry Scott."

Love to last the 'Wrest' of time

FAMILY TIES: Judith and Neil Barton and right, the memorial bench

BY JENNA HUTBER

jenna.hutber@lutononsunday.co.uk

IN the midst of Valentine's Day frenzy the grandchildren of First World War sweethearts visited Wrest Park to share stories of their family's tender beginnings.

Private Daniel MacKinnon MacLean of the Black Watch found a tender silver lining to WW1 clouds when fighting in the trenches left him recovering from a leg amputation at a convalescent house in Silsoe.

It was at Wrest Park country-house-turned-hospital that Daniel met still room maid Evelyn Annie Hughes.

Daniel and Evelyn soon fell in love, married and moved to Edgeware, Middlesex, where they had three children and named their family home 'Wrest'. Their grandchildren Neil and Judith Barton often visit Wrest Park and said it has increasingly become a part of their lives.

Judith said: "It does feel like part of the park belongs to us and we enjoy visiting and taking in the history of our grandparents."

"It's just walking up and down the grounds of the house and being aware that this is where the start of their courtship took place."

The WW1 couple are now buried together in Golders

Green Cemetery. Their children knew how special the Bedfordshire country house was to their parents and installed a memorial bench inscribed with the love story.

Judith said English Heritage volunteers approached both her and Neil during one of their visits to Wrest Park.

She said: "We would like to thank the wonderful staff at Wrest Park - it really is a wonderful place."

Daniel and Evelyn's story will be told in an exhibition at Wrest Park from May.

'Huge' issue with forced marriages

BY CARL MUNGAZI
carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

FORCED marriage is a 'huge problem' which needs more publicity, the scriptwriter of a film about the issue has said.

Moazzem Hussain, of Chandos Road, Luton, said many victims of forced marriages feel too ashamed to speak out about their experiences.

Mr Hussain worked with director Dr Anwar Haque and cinematographer Habilul Munzir to produce 'Soul Mate', which was shown on Tuesday night at the Houses of Parliament.

It tells the story of a young British-born Bangladeshi girl who is taken to Bangladesh and forced to marry a relative.

The screening was attended by various local groups, including the Luton Women's Centre, which helps more than 60 people a year affected by forced marriages.

Mr Hussain said: "Forced marriage is a huge problem in the community. It's not just in the UK but people coming from South East Asia and some African countries.

"We tried to highlight the issue with the film and show it's not acceptable and not right. I have friends and family who have seen this happening."

Mr Hussain, who also runs a restaurant in Leighton Buzzard, said when he approached victims of forced marriage, they encouraged him to do the film.

He added: "Some times they feel ashamed but it is such a big problem we hope people will watch the film to see that this is not right and that we have to stop doing that."

"Most of these victims are from overseas and they can't speak English so even if they have the intention of expressing their problem they can't go and talk to the police."

"At the same time, they think if they talk to someone it will bring shame to the family."

Melanie Skyers, chief executive at the Women's Centre, said: "I would say that the majority of people that we see are young women who feel that they are being coerced into being married and at times it could be that the family feels they are doing the honourable thing by bringing a family member over from another country."

ACTION: Mr Hussain said some victims of forced marriage were ashamed to speak out

Line failure downs 999 for two hours

A MAJOR fault on a telephone line left parts of the county without access to the emergency services from landlines on Monday.

The service was unreachable from 7.30pm until 9.43pm in the Luton, Leagrave, Dunstable, Leighton Buzzard, Shillington, Woburn and Bedford areas.

The East of England Ambulance service was unaffected as they routed their calls to another control centre, but both the police and fire and rescue services were hit.

The two forces liaised to ensure disruption was kept to a minimum, with a spokesman for the fire service saying: "We contacted the police in light of the news and they posted information about where to call on social media."

Retail park to get £4.3 million boost

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

MORE than 100 jobs will be created after the £4.32 million refurbishment of a retail park was approved.

New retailers such as M&S Simply Food and Next will move into the White Lion Retail Park in Dunstable after Central Bedfordshire Council reached an agreement with the site's owners.

The revamp will see the long unoccupied former

Staples and Comet stores subdivided to allow the new shops to move in.

Shoe chain Brantano and Sports Direct are also said to be negotiating to open new branches in the retail park. The new stores are expected to create 110 jobs.

The council said restrictions would remain in place on nine of the 13 units so that it can prevent changes which could 'adversely impact' Dunstable town centre.

Councillor Nigel Young

said: "This is a fantastic boost for Dunstable.

"A refurbished White Lion Retail Park will further enhance the reputation of the town as a great place for shopping, leisure and culture.

"Over the last two years a wide range of regeneration projects and developments have been breathing new life into this traditional market town, improving infrastructure, leisure, and social facilities across the board."

SEW HAPPY: Helen has worked 'really hard' on her label

Helen's got designs on Fashion Week

A DESIGNER who launched her own clothing label in 2011 will feature at London Fashion Week this month.

Helen Woollams, from Dunstable, will showcase clothes she has made under her Hellavagirl label.

The 32-year-old's work has been featured in Vogue magazine and she said she is receiving messages from different stylists on a daily basis.

She said: "I feel like I wake up each morning to a new proposition."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

ADVERTISEMENT

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Tom Bliss feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service the Luton, Dunstable and Stevenage areas and Tom is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success.

"The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Tom a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Suspect in murder to return to the UK

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A MAN wanted in connection with the murder of student Marcus Hall in 2001 has been arrested in Nigeria.

Adebayo Ekun, 38, was previously listed as wanted for the murder of 18-year-old Mr Hall who was beaten and stabbed to death 14 years ago on March 21 outside what was then Atmosphere nightclub in Luton.

Mr Hall (pictured), a business student and part time DJ, had travelled down from Peckham with a group of friends, but arrived too late to be let into the club. He was attacked when he got separated from his friends.

In 2002 and 2003, a total of seven men were convicted for the part they played in Marcus' murder.

Following a So Solid Crew performance at the nightclub, a fight broke out in the street which ended in Mr Hall left fighting for his life, having been beaten and repeatedly stabbed. Parts of the violence were caught on CCTV and also by a student who filmed some of the fight.

The seven were convicted following an investigation by Bedfordshire Police, which was initially met with a wall of silence.

The victim's mother, Icelyn Wilson persuaded people to come forward, which resulted in the convictions for the murder of Mr Hall.

Ekun was arrested in Nigeria on Thursday and is currently in custody awaiting extradition back to the United Kingdom.

The Beds, Cambs and Herts Major Crime Unit is working with the National Crime Agency in Nigeria to carry out the extradition process.

Luton ISIS fighter boasts of 'killing' coalition pilots

AN IS recruit from Luton has posted photos online with another jihadist, boasting of their plans to kill pilots from the US-led coalition.

Abu Aziz, 32, formerly of Hazelbury Crescent, fled the UK to join the Islamist militants despite being on bail for stabbing a football fan with a pen. He posted a photo, on Twitter, with Abu Rumaysah, 31, who also left the country despite having been arrested by counter-terrorism police.

The picture shows the pair next to a downed fighter along with a caption which reads: 'Maybe next time myself n Abu Rumaysah r 2gether it will be head of nusayri uk usa french jordan Saudi pilots head' (sic).

Aziz's Twitter account has since been suspended.

A number of his accounts have already been shut down.

Wake up, Luton

REGARDING Olly Martins claims that 50 per cent of the respondents support the increase in council tax.

What I would like to know is how many of them are actually paying the full amount of council tax and how many get a rebate, or indeed pay nothing.

It's easy to agree to an increase if you are already paying nothing.

As one of the many people in Luton who has to pay the full amount, I do not want it to be increased considering that this Labour council has shut libraries, cut street cleaning and social services, and the government was happy to find £180,000 for an all girls' school when it looked like all was lost.

When are the people of Luton going to wake up? You have a chance in many to vote out these people.

If you don't you deserve everything you get.

Girls' school 'smell'

LUTON has just escaped the humiliation of having a so-called 'all girls school' thrust upon it.

In itself that's good news because of course few people believed it was anything other than a thinly disguised faith school.

This theory was strengthened by the Ruby's reporting was 'unfair'

THE council actively supports and encourages new businesses in Luton.

But your article about the hygiene inspection rating for Ruby's Bar & Grill does not give a fair representation of the council's actions.

Part of the council's role is to keep the public as safe and healthy as possible, which is why we carry out food hygiene inspections of local food outlets. The hygiene rating system ranges from 0 (urgent improvement necessary) to 5 (very good).

So when Ruby's owner wrote to us last November explaining the business name had changed to Ruby's Bar & Grill but 'all else remains the same as before', there was no reason for us to change the 0 food rating. In line with national practice, we updated our website food.gov.uk accordingly and the 0 hygiene score remained unchanged.

By law, any new owner of a food outlet must register their business with the council which automatically triggers a hygiene inspection; as Ruby's owner did not tell us about a change of ownership, obviously we were not aware of it.

We wish Ruby's Bar &

Grill business every success. The business appears on the hygiene ratings website as a new business awaiting inspection.

As they say, the proof will be in the pudding! Please also note the Food Safety Team is happy to provide advice and guidance to new and existing food businesses.

There is also a general business support website thinkluton.co.uk/we-can-help for business information, support and funding opportunities.

'Take the grant, not the Mick'

WHY doesn't Luton Borough Council give everyone a break this year and accept the government's grant, which they have rejected for the fourth year running.

If Olly Martins gets his way we will have to fork out an extra £44.72 a year.

That's outrageous.

LBC has got a reputation for wasting our money.

They will probably spend the extra cash on, I love Luton campaign, or another bid for city status.

Take the grant, not the Mick!

UKIP 'common sense'

THERE'S something about Nigel.

I find myself having to agree with recent letter writer, James Smithson, who wrote about Nigel Farage and common sense.

I have just received an introductory letter from Nigel Wickens, the UKIP Parliamentary Candidate for Mid Bedfordshire and, like his namesake and party leader, he talks a lot of basic common sense.

Such as getting our country's independence back from the unelected, superstate-seeking bureaucrats in Brussels.

He will get my vote on May 7.

College on its way back from the brink

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A FAILING college has been turned around in less than a year.

When Ofsted visited Houghton Regis' Cental Bedfordshire University Technical College (UTC) in March last year, it was the first of its kind to be deemed 'inadequate' and placed in special measures.

In April 2014, the then education secretary, Michael Gove, approached Bedford College to become sponsors of the failing UTC.

By August, their status had been confirmed and new plans put in place.

Ian Pryce, principal and CEO of Bedford College, said: "We've had several Ofsted review visits since and they've all been really positive in their response."

The usual aim for a school or college to be out of special measures is two years, which the UTC is well on track for with September being the expected timeframe.

Mr Pryce added: "We've been maintaining progress since we came in, which started off with a change in leadership team and we have noticed an improvement in teaching.

ROAD TO RECOVERY: Ian Pryce, principal and CEO of Bedford College, admits there is a long way to go

"We've started working closely with schools in the Luton Borough area to offer part-time classes to students in the town."

"Our next plan is to work with local employers to help people gain experience and find work after they leave."

"We're currently in partnership with around 15 local companies."

The ultimate aim is to turn the college into a 'sustainable and reputable educational institution' before relieving control, while continuing to sponsor the college.

While there has been a positive start, Mr Pryce admits there's still a way to go.

He said: "As it's had a troubled history, it's a harder challenge than starting from the ground up as we've got to work on improving the UTC's reputation."

The college has also been rated one of the top in the county for vocational subjects in a Department of Education league table.

'Colourful' Fillip was liked by all

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

TRIBUTES have poured in for a young man who died in a suspected suicide.

Fillip Rusenza, 20, who is more commonly known as Fillip Huf to his friends, died at the scene after being hit by a train at Leighton Buzzard station last Saturday evening.

Three of his friends, Max Barrett, 18; Sam Lee, 19, and Liam Jasper, 18, all from Dunstable, said Fillip had been 'liked by everyone' and his death had left people 'heartbroken'.

Comments have also been left on Facebook by others who knew him.

Roxy Mead said: "RIP Fillip Huf, you were so lovely and you will be truly missed by a lot of people x," while Louise Carney said: "The amount of people who cared and loved fillip is unreal! You will be surely missed! Rest in peace Fillip Huf."

Max, who knew Fillip for two years, said: "Fillip was always the most colourfully dressed. Anywhere you went - he was the brightest. He once drove us about in his car when he first got his licence and that was quite nice. He had plans to go out of Dunstable.

"When we found out he was dead it was a shock. . just unbelievable. We phoned a few people and most of them did not believe it.

"Some of them thought that it was a bad joke. It was hard to accept. Since he died we have had a few things going on. People have been out together everyday just talking about Fillip.

"No-one organised it. It was good to see how many people that he inspired and the impact he had on the people he was around. I think we were like his family."

Liam and Sam said they had both known Fillip for a few months but had 'clicked instantly' with him.

Liam said: "We are all pretty much heartbroken because we all loved him. Some people are still in shock and some still have not gotten over it. I had a good bond with him and he was such a lovely guy."

Sam added: "He tended to click with everyone and there seemed to be no-one that did not like him. Fillip was just a normal guy and he always put his mates in front of everyone else and was liked by everyone."

The trio also said a memorial had been arranged for Fillip on February 21 at 8pm in Luton Road, Dunstable, to celebrate his love of modified cars.

British Transport Police said they were not treating the death as suspicious and they would be preparing a file for the coroner.

InterviewLuton

AS the son of a man who once advised government ministers in Antigua during the late 1950s, Sundon Park councillor Sydney Knight had an early introduction to politics.

At the age of 14 he was one of the youth leaders in the Antiguan Labour Party who travelled around the country with the then Prime Minister Vere Cornwall Bird. Fast forward to 2015 and he is now a Labour councillor in Luton and also a former mayor of the town.

Cllr Knight was born in 1943 and is the second of six children. He says he first 'came to life' at the age of three when he saw the Moravian mission house his family lived in at the time destroyed in a fire.

This was followed two years later by a double hurricane that destroyed a large part of the faith school he had been attending, as well as part of his new home. "When the hurricane came it destroyed most of the house and left us in poverty," Cllr Knight says.

"I was unable to go back to that faith school, and I remember the teacher kept writing to us because that particular year I was did go back to that school afterwards, so I lost my books. I always remember that because it was the first time I knew I was really angry with society. I lost the opportunity to get the prize for working hard in school and that really was a bug-bear to me."

CARL MUNGAZI is on a mission to uncover the hidden stories of Luton. His aim: to interview at least one person from every nationality represented in the town.

CHAINS: Cllr Knight served as town mayor during 2012/13

As he grew older Cllr Knight got involved in politics because of the connections and influence of his father who, among other things, printed magazines and wrote news articles.

Cllr Knight describes him as a man who 'didn't suffer fools gladly', and always had people seeking him out for wise counsel, including politicians. After finishing his education in 1963, Cllr Knight worked at a tailor shop for a short period before joining the Antiguan customs department. He did not stay there long and he moved to the UK in 1966 after being recruited by Lyon's & Co to work at one of their restaurants in Golders Green, London.

However, Cllr Knight lasted only a few weeks in his job as a kitchen porter.

He left to work as a railway engineer - a job he did for 22 years - before leaving in 1988 when he completed a degree in Social Science.

He then became a social worker soon after and is now retired, having left the profession in March 2013.

During his time as a railway engineer Cllr Knight lived in London with his wife and son. They moved to Luton in 1973 when they sold their house and bought another.

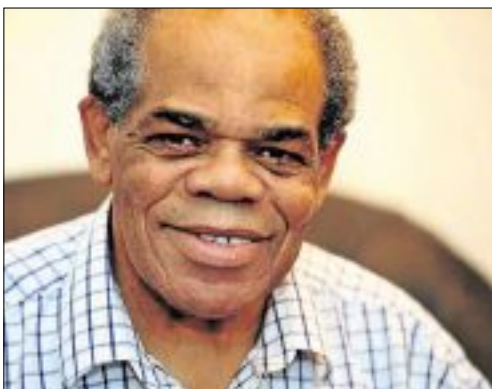

It was at this point that politics began calling again.

How difficult was it to get back in?

"Pretty hard actually," he says. "It was pretty hard for them to understand me in the Labour Party - never mind outside."

"And it's not just me as a black person, but everybody joining the party with their different values. They come up against it all the time and they have to fight their corner."

Cllr Knight had two unsuccessful election campaigns before he won his first seat in Sundon Park in 1991.

STARTING POINT: Growing up in Antigua, Cllr Knight was heavily involved in politics through his work with the Antiguan Labour Party

He lost his seat in 2003 when the Liberal Democrats came into power but then won it back in 2011.

A year later he became the 139th Mayor of Luton.

What has he learnt from a life in politics? He says: "The thing is, if you believe in your values and principles, you must stick to them."

"Your values and principles must stand the test of time, must be morally sound, and if you believe in them, stick with them and pass them on to your kids."

"The problem is that in this country you have families who are lone parent families and most of them are females. Now it's not that the females are not doing a good job, but what these kids are missing out on is a balance - having a male role model as well as the female role model.

"They need the balance and they need male teachers, particularly in the primary school to help with the balance because when they go to primary school the teachers are mainly female."

"The male youngsters have lost their way and we need to bring them back, and we need a set of principles and a set of values to guide us."

"The parents have got to have the vision and provide the guidance in order to bring the kids along with them."

GRITTY: Residents posted pictures of the rubbish online

Council clears grit box after complaint

RUBBISH stuffed into boxes meant to store gritting salt has been cleared by a council after residents complained. Central Bedfordshire Council cleaned the boxes in Station Road, Dunstable, after a resident posted it on Facebook and called on the authority to clean it.

The council said it cleared it within two days and called on people to help it save money by 'disposing of their litter responsibly'.

Vandals punished for £200k blaze

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lsmmedia.co.uk

FOUR young men's 'mindless vandalism' caused £200,000 worth of damage to a school.

A classroom was gutted in a fire at Downside Primary in Chaul End Road, Luton, with others and corridors smoke damaged and pupils' cherished work lost in the flames on April 6, 2013.

At St Albans Crown Court on Monday the judge was told the four had been of good character and came from respectable families. Two 17 year olds from Luton who cannot be named and Ahasaan Khan, 20, and Mohammed Iqbal, 18, both of Humberstone Road, Luton, were appearing for sentence following a trial.

The jury had heard they'd gone into the grounds during the Easter break with three getting on to a roof and hurling stones at windows and breaking them. A fire started in a classroom after books and paper were piled up and ignited.

Khan and Iqbal, along with one of the youths, had been found guilty of arson. The second teen was cleared of arson but convicted of burglary with intent to cause damage. Khan was sent to a young offenders institute for 20 months, while Iqbal received 18 months.

The 17-year-old arsonist was given a 12 month detention and training order, while the other was given a six month youth rehabilitation order. He will also be the subject of a curfew for three months.

WINNER: Architecture student Vanessa Barsan, pictured with her design for the new bandstand in Luton's Wardown Park, was chosen out of 500 overall entries as the winner in the 16-22 age bracket

Pitch perfect: Vanessa has designs on a new bandstand after bagging £2.5k prize

A 19-YEAR-old student has scooped a £2,500 bursary for her design of a new bandstand for Wardown Park.

Vanessa Barsan, a first-year interior architecture student at University of Bedfordshire, won the award in the 16-22 age category of the competition.

She said: "I was really surprised, the standard of entries was really high and I certainly didn't expect to win."

The design took inspiration from the Sydney Opera House and many other sculptures.

"I designed it to be made out of wood as it's a beautiful textile to work with: it is durable, and would still look beautiful in one hundred years. I also wanted something that looked modern and met its key purpose."

The other winners were Eden Staires, in the 11-16 category, and Elouise Thompson in the under-11s.

Over 500 entries were received for the competition, which was run by the four Rotary Clubs of Luton and the Rotary Youth Trust of Luton.

They asked people aged from under 11 to 22 from across the region to draw their ideal Luton bandstand, as part of the an ongoing project which will see a new, modern bandstand built in the heart of Luton's Wardown Park.

Town's Labour MPs to defend their seats

 BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

THE town's two MPs have been announced as the Labour party's candidates for the upcoming general election.

Luton South MP, Gavin Shuker, and Luton North MP, Kelvin Hopkins, will be defending their seats in May.

The announcement was made during an event at Luton Town's Kenilworth Road stadium attended by Labour supporters, including the party's policy co-ordinator Jon Cruddas MP.

Mr Hopkins said: "I am very pleased to be standing again in Luton North.

"At the last general election I increased my majority. I don't know if that will hap-

ON SIDE: Both MPs were presented with personalised Luton Town shirts pen again this time but I always say that I take nothing for granted and travel hopefully."

Mr Shuker said: "I am very pleased to be standing again in this most important election year. We need big change in this country to bring more jobs, hope and prosperity into our town. I hope to be increasing my majority in May, but like Kelvin, I take nothing for granted."

Community worker is Lib Dem candidate

A WELL known community worker has been chosen as an election candidate for the town's Liberal Democrat party.

Ashuk Ahmed MBE will contest the Luton South seat held by Labour's Shadow International Development Minister, Gavin Shuker MP.

Mr Ahmed, awarded his MBE in 2009, is a manager at a housing association.

He said: "As MP for Luton South I will be able to draw on my experiences in my work in various local voluntary organisations, my time as a school governor and the support I receive from hard working local Liberal Democrat councillors."

Mr Ahmed added that he if elected, he was looking forward to being 'part of a powerful, progressive force in the new parliament'.

Aviva Day Spa Welcomes all New Clients!

Luton's Award Winning Salon, Aviva Day Spa, would like to welcome all NEW clients with 25% off any full priced treatment. Aviva Day Spa has been established since 2008 and is located in Park Street just opposite Debenhams. The spa hosts over 10 treatments rooms, sunbeds, tanning booths, showers and offers an array of professional beauty services. The spa had a wonderful team of 6 fully qualified beauty therapists and between them have over 50 years experience in the industry. Salon owner Janan Saher has been in the industry for over 16 years and specialises in all areas of beauty. Janan was also makeup artist in 2006 for Americas Next Top Models and with this expert experience is able to provide excellent makeovers for weddings and special occasions.

Janan wanted to provide Luton with a spa that would offer high class professional services by experienced and fully qualified staff, who are passionate about what they do. Janan added "I love making people feel and look good. There's nothing better than having your clients walk away feeling lifted and rejuvenated. In this economical climate most of us are overworked, stressed and make little time for ourselves. Treating yourself to a monthly body massage or facial makes such a difference in how you feel physically and mentally. It's a wonderful feeling knowing I can contribute to that." Aviva has some fantastic new treatments and amazing discounts running over the next month so be sure to snap them up!

On your marks to pick sports stars

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

DO you know a dedicated young sports star who puts in the hours to reach the top?

Or how about a special coach, who knows how to get the very best from their team?

If so, why not nominate them to be recognised for their work in the 2015 Luton Sports Awards – an annual ceremony presented by the Luton Sports Network (LSN) and supported by Luton Borough Council and Luton on Sunday.

The LSN has been established for more than 30 years and is a voluntary body which promotes and encourages sport and physical activity within the town. Nominations for the awards will be accepted from anyone, including members of the nominee's family or club.

However, you must ensure that full details and information about the person or team's achievements (January 1-December 31 last year) are put on the entry form as the judges' decisions are based entirely on this and no other information will be considered.

Submissions will be accepted for people, teams or clubs who reside in the borough or whose home team or club venue is located in the town.

Nomination forms can be found at lutonsportsnetwork.co.uk and should be returned by March 15.

Help is at hand to keep the little ones busy this holiday

WHAT'S ON

HALF TERM ACTIVITIES

Various locations
All this week

WHAT to do, what to do, what to do?

Do you find yourself asking that question whenever the February half-term swings around and you've got the all important task of keeping an energetic bunch of young ones entertained for a week?

You are not alone. But thankfully, there are things happening in Luton and the surrounding areas which might help to take the load off.

One option is to attend the various activities being organised by the Full House Theatre company, including the Pop-Up Flashback show (pictured) on Thursday at The Hat Factory at 11.30am-12.30pm and 2.30pm-3.30pm.

Performed by duo Joseph Coelho (poet and playwright) and John O'Leary (illustrator), the show is a tale about complicated families and growing up told through poetry and pop-up books.

The main character is called Sebastian, a child whose memories are not like everyone else.

His recollections are poetic memories from the pages of his colourful pop-up books and the treasure trove of his imagination.

Among other things, he remembers troll kings and mermaid queens, deep sea diving super heroes and city smashing dinosaurs.

Other Full House shows this week include The Ugly Duckling at Luton Library (Tues, 11.30am and 2.30pm) and Stopsley Library (Wed, 11.30am), and the Water Wiggle dance workshop at the Tokko Youth Centre (Thu, 11.30am and 2.30pm).

Alternatively, you can take a trip to the Grove Theatre for the Wizard of Oz (Mon and Tues, 10.30am-3.30pm) and Annie (various dates and times).

The theatre is also hosting a workshop for nine to 15 year olds who want to learn how to create and star in their own pop video.

For more information on the events call Luton Culture on 01582 547470 or visit them online at lutonculture.com. You can also contact the Grove Theatre on 01582 602080 or find out more at grovetheatre.co.uk

Music club is sure to be a real classic

MUSIC

LUTON MUSIC CLUB

Luton Library Theatre
Tomorrow, 7.45pm

START your week with a classical touch by popping down to sample Luton Music Club's latest offering at the Library Theatre.

Rising star Clare Hammond (pictured) will be holding a piano recital including highlights from her recent disc of concert studies.

The programme includes Velocity, especially written for her last year by renowned British composer Adam Gorb, and the jazz inflected pyrotechnics of Nikolai Kapustin's keyboard playing.

Clare's latest album 'Etude', released on February 2, features a selection of 20th and 21st Century études by Unsuk Chin, Kapustin, Sergei Lyapunov and Karol Szymanowski.

In a recent interview, when asked whether Kapustin's études were a 'marriage of jazz and classical music', Clare said: "I think that's how Kapustin would describe it himself as well, and it's a development that has sustained his entire career, so he is an enormously prolific composer."

And at a time when we are reflecting on the impact of the First World War, Clare's recital will also hit a poignant note. She will be playing Maurice Ravel's Le Tombeau de Couperin, which was composed between 1914 and 1917, in six movements based on those of a traditional Baroque suite.

Each movement is dedicated to the memory of a friend of the composer (or in one case, two brothers) who had died fighting in WWI dedicated to the memory of a friend who died in the war.

Tickets cost £15. To book call 01582 878100.

EXHIBITION

LISTEN!

Wardown Park Museum

Tuesday, February 17-Sunday, April 19

KNOWN for his eclectic history of music and stage projects, Australian percussionist Graeme Leak is a prime example of less being more.

Now living just down the road in St Albans, his latest work will be on show at Wardown Park Museum, starting on Tuesday.

Since arriving in the UK in 2013, he has been arranging his collection of sound related objects to create this new exhibition.

The clue to LISTEN! is in the title, with the minimalist piece asking you to take some time and open up your ears to explore this new work.

Gently ringing chimes, lightly amplified dripping water, environmental drones, retro tape loops and the sound of your own foot-steps combine to make a space where the noise of the world can be left behind for some moments of contemplation and wonder.

A talented percussionist, pianist and composer, his experimental work is best described as a combination of music, theatre and art.

Back in Australia, he set up a musical fence in 2003 in the outback which has since become a tourist attraction and composed and led a performance at the 2006 Commonwealth Games.

Entrance is free and there is no need to book, so simply drop in.

JOKES ARE GUNN-ER GET

A barnstorming night with Mike

BARNSTORMERS COMEDY: MIKE GUNN

The Grove Theatre, Dunstable

February 19, 8pm

'WHOSE brain is as useful as a cat-flap on a submarine?'

Have you ever wondered who thought of those fantastic Weakest Link put-downs?

Well, we have some news for you - his name is Joe Rowntree and he is coming to Dunstable next week.

Yes, Tuesday night sees a top class comedy line-up return to The Grove as Barnstormers returns for its monthly show and Joe is just one of the laughter-inducing acts on the bill.

Many of the country's top comics have appeared as part of a Barnstormers line up on their way to fame, including Sarah Millican, Lee Nelson and Andy Parsons.

This could be a chance to see an act before they make a breakthrough and become a household name.

Topping the bill this month is the unorthodox 'pessimist' Mike Gunn.

Mike, who has described himself as 'not a natural choice for a career in laughter' first broke onto the comedy scene in the late 1980s, during his rehabilitation for his heroin addiction. Not one to shy away from his demons, he tackles these issues in his comedy and even broke away from conventional stand-up in his acclaimed 2003 Edinburgh Fringe show and subsequent tour Uncut to base his routine entirely around drug issues.

He has performed at the top venues in the UK and also internationally, showcasing his talent from Hong Kong to Holland to Australia at the Melbourne International Comedy Festival, where he completed a five-week sell-out season.

Support on the night comes from the aforementioned king of snide put-downs, Joe Rowntree. He started his career in showbusiness in 2001, writing those infamous lines for Anne Robinson, before appearing on Sky 1's Braniac: Science Abuse, finding his stage feet on the latter's arena tour which culminated at the Hammersmith Apollo.

He soon transitioned to the stand up circuit and has been a regular at London clubs ever since.

Lastly, is veteran Noel James.

James has been a mainstay on the UK comedy scene for over a decade and his combination of puns, prop gags and witty retorts have left audiences in stitches up and down the country.

Your compere for the evening, as always, will be Kevin Precious. Tickets are £12.50 in advance, or £15 on the door. You can book by visiting-grovethatre.co.uk

PRESS RELEASE

FEBRUARY 2015

Mortgage Consultant receives promotion

Local estate agency Connells in Luton is pleased to announce the promotion of Jay Tailor to Mortgage Services Manager, effective immediately.

Jay has now been promoted twice in last two years for his outstanding performance throughout 2014: "I am delighted to have been promoted for the second time in two years," says Jay. "I've worked hard since day one and my determination to continually try to improve myself has obviously been noticed by the company, which is fantastic."

With mortgage rates continuing to stay low for the foreseeable, buyers and sellers can take comfort in knowing rates are not likely to be hiked up in the coming months. Some experts do not expect to see a base rate rise at all in 2015 which Jay says is brilliant news for people looking to get themselves on the property ladder or move home.

"There has been a lot of speculation about rate rises for quite some time now, and people who have been moving home during that period have taken full advantage of some great products," Jay continues. "I would urge anybody who is thinking of moving home to do so now. Mortgage lenders are competing amongst themselves to offer customers the most appealing products and rates, so now is certainly a great time to get your mortgage sorted or perhaps think about remortgaging if your product is coming to an end."

If you are thinking of moving home or would like a free market appraisal then call Connells in Luton on 01582 450 999 or email luton@connells.co.uk

Humanities Teachers

£24,745 - £36,360 pa

We are looking to appoint two dynamic and innovative teachers to join our thriving Humanities department from September 2015. The Humanities department, of which History and Geography are a part, is an extremely experienced and supportive one. The department currently has five full time members of staff. We are also a lead partner school for a local Initial Teacher Training organisation and as such we are joined by three trainees during the course of the year.

Teacher of History

We welcome applications from well-qualified History specialists who are seeking a challenge in a supportive and high-performing environment. This role would be especially suitable for an NQT who would be fully supported to complete their induction year.

History is currently the most popular option subject with five groups studying at GCSE where we follow the academically demanding Edexcel Modern World course. The History department also offers a range of extracurricular opportunities for students including an annual Battlefields trip to Ypres as well as visits to local and national sites and museums.

Teacher of Geography (Maternity Cover)

We are also looking for a well-qualified Geography specialist for an initial period of 3 terms. This role would be suitable for an NQT or an experienced teacher.

Geography is popular option subject with four groups currently studying at GCSE. We follow the AQA A syllabus. As well as our exciting, demanding and varied curriculum, the Geography department offers a range of extracurricular opportunities for students including an annual Y11 Fieldwork visit to Dorset.

We are proud that our teachers work in an environment where they can teach enthusiastically, motivated and well behaved students in an atmosphere where high achievement and dedication is the norm. Students value the high quality teaching they get at BFS and the department is considered to be a leading one within the school.

THE BOROUGH OF LUTON (VARIOUS ROADS)
(TEMPORARY ROAD CLOSURES) ORDER 2015

NOTICE is hereby given that on 9th February 2015 Luton Borough Council, the Highway Authority for the said Borough, made the above Order under the relevant provisions of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 as amended.

The Order will come into operation on 1st March 2015 for a period of 18 months. Specific times and dates will be signed locally. The Order will therefore be in operation when signs are displayed.

The effect of the Order will allow the Council to close to traffic the roads and lengths of roads in the Schedule below. The Order is intended to create a window for the works to be done and it is anticipated that the works will be completed over a period within the date described as above.

The purpose of the Order is to enable carriageway resurfacing works to be carried out. The Order will also provide for a "No Waiting Monday to Saturday 8am to 6pm" waiting restriction to apply in each road for the period of the closure. This will be in force when cones are displayed. Vehicles will be prohibited from accessing and parking on the road with exception to vehicles used by the emergency services and vehicles being used in connection with the works. Access will be maintained as best as possible to properties where this may be done safely and diversions for traffic will be marked by signs.

FRONTAL ASSAULT

Bringing a sleek hybrid crossover to market for around £30,000 is a tough assignment but Lexus has pulled it off with the NX 300h S. It sends drive to the front wheels but makes no pretences about any off-road prowess. It'll manage better than 56mpg and packs a 195PS punch. That's quite a gauntlet thrown down to rivals.

Yes, you can buy the NX 300h with all-wheel drive, but to be honest, it's hardly any more capable in the rough stuff. This NX 300h S is powered by the proven Lexus 2.5-litre petrol engine, generator, motor and battery with a total system output of 197PS, doing without the additional electric motor that sits atop the rear axle in all-wheel drive NX models. It also gets sprung-weight damping control to increase ride comfort and handling stability by reducing pitching when driving on uneven surfaces. It'll sprint to 62mph in a reasonable 9.3 seconds and keep running on to 112mph.

Remember when Lexus tried to look like their competitors? Seems a bit quaint now doesn't it? These days there's no mistaking a Lexus for anything else and this NX adopts the current family look with a vast 'spindle grille' at the front, dwarfing the LED headlights and L-shaped daytime running lights. The flared wheel arches house either 17 or 18-inch alloy wheels, while the side profile of the vehicle demonstrates how Lexus has aimed to create a sleek shape without compromising rear headroom, the highest point of the roofline being stretched backwards. Neat styling touches include a door handle with a concealed key barrel and plenty of shape built into the flank surfacing. This thing looks sharp enough to cut you.

The interior also owes little to the premium German brands in its design ethos. Lexus aimed to combine the purpose of a high-performance vehicle with the materials quality of a luxury vehicle. The centrepiece of the dash is a curvaceous H-shaped metal frame that's a world away from a typically slab-fronted SUV fascia panel. Details like drilled pedals and quilted leather seats differentiate the cabin from the usual suburban SUV norm. Practicality certainly hasn't been overlooked though, and the NX offers decent headroom, a generous front-to-rear hip point distance and the longest luggage area load length in its class.

Should you want a BMW X3 or Audi Q5-sized vehicle, you're not exactly starved of choice at the moment. Limit the budget to £30,000 and the choices become a lot less exciting. That's why we're fairly confident that this entry-level S version of the Lexus NX has a real chance. Even as the starter NX, it's rammed with standard equipment and it's not as if you're buying something with an outdated nail of a diesel engine in the nose. Instead, you get a clever hybrid system that offers reasonable refinement and very good economy.

Clearly, its chances of success hinge on the public perception of a front-wheel drive 'Crossover' vehicle. Let's face it, this one isn't mocked up as an off-roader. It's more like an estate with the sort of high seating position that makes many drivers feel comfortable. Lexus has built something smart and pragmatic here. It might well reap the benefits.

ON TARGET AGAIN: Mark Cullen celebrates the only goal against Carlisle United yesterday

Cullen strikes again

LEAGUE TWO LUTON TOWN
CARLISLE UNITED

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE
sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

MARK Cullen marked his first Luton start of 2015 with his third goal in two games to sink Carlisle United, though the striker and manager John Still couldn't agree on the reason why he'd previously been dropped.

Still had said in midweek that Cullen had needed a rest and that transfer interest from other clubs last month might have affected his form.

Asked, after his match-winning day, if he knew about the interest, Cullen said: "No, not at all. They don't have to tell me if they don't think a bid is acceptable, so it's got nothing to do with me until the gaffer pulls me in his office and says this has happened. I didn't hear any word of it.

"I signed a three-year contract in the summer and if the club have a bid and they think it's acceptable that's down to them but I'm not trying to leave."

Yet, in his post-match interview, the Hatters boss stuck to his story, saying: "There had been interest and that can affect people," and adding: "I think taking him out of the firing line was the right thing to do."

"If any business had happened, it would have happened, but you need to be sure that people are focused 100 per cent and I think that he's shown that."

"There were people asking questions but in terms of valuation they were nowhere near what we would value. Mark never ever spoke to us about that so it was never a consideration from his point of view."

"But, if he hears things, the speculation can unsettle you either way, of course it can. I think we made it clear that we weren't looking to sell Mark Cullen. If someone comes in and makes an offer that's ridiculous we all have to listen."

"We didn't actively encourage any interest in Mark."

The forward was a livewire throughout yesterday, fully meriting his recall to the side after his substitute's rescue act in midweek against York. That, against Carlisle, Luton Town didn't compile a score more akin to the current Cricket World Cup was down to their long held inability to turn possession and dominance into goals.

That concern was greatly eased by a comfortable 14th clean sheet of the campaign, despite Luke Wilkinson seeing red for a professional foul on Anthony Sweeney in the 66th minute.

That means, after captain Steve McNulty sat out the first of a four game ban, that both the Hatters' first choice central defensive partnership will be missing for at least the next two

Dees remain six points adrift of league safety

RUGBY UNION

IT was heartache for Dunstablians on Valentine's Day as they were beaten 32-15 on the road at Lutterworth.

As a result they were unable to make it three league wins on the bounce so they still sit eight points adrift at the foot of Midlands Two East South with six league games remaining.

"The last 20 minutes cost us," said Dees' Director of Rugby James Noel. "We made a good start to the game before our prop, Rob Courtneil, took a blow to the head – we suspect some concussion, so he had to come off."

"We stabilised and regrouped, but in the end it came down to a few missed tackles being the difference on the day."

It's a case of top versus bottom next weekend, as the Dees travel to Northampton Old Scouts, the current league leaders.

"They don't worry us," said Noel. "They beat us by a late drop goal in the reverse fixture, back in November, so we're confident we can get something from the game."

Luton RFC are through to the final of the East Midlands Cup without having to kick a ball as their opponents Huntingdon conceded the game due to player availability.

"It's a bit of a weird one," said Luton's skills and attack Coach Chris Parr. "It's always nice to make a final, but you'd prefer to earn your place."

Luton were beaten finalists in the competition for the last two seasons, losing last year to Peterborough and to Amphyll the season before. "It's another shot at silverware, and hopefully third time lucky," said Parr.

Stockwood Park will face Bedford Queens in the semi-final of the Bedfordshire Cup on March 14, following the Queens' quarter-final win.

"They've beaten us twice this season – they'll start as favourites," said Park President John Humphries. "It's a competition we enjoy."

games. The shutout also owed a great debt to the fact that Carlisle were so one dimensional that, to the naked eye of onlookers in the Oak Road and Kenilworth Road stand, they must have disappeared entirely.

It was almost beyond belief that the Cumbrians began time wasting from the first minute, but they did. It quickly got under the skin of the home faithful, but the 8,226 of them would get their own back after Town took the lead six minutes before the break, taking their time to return the ball for Carlisle set-pieces.

It was sweet revenge for every side that has travelled to Kenilworth Road in recent seasons with the same game plan.

But, just as the frustration levels started to rise after a series of missed chances, Luton made the breakthrough.

Matt Robinson – returning to the starting line-up for the first time since August 30, in place of the injured Nathan Doyle – threaded through to Cullen and the striker slotted in at the near post for his third goal in two games, on his first start of 2015 and his son's first birthday. It seems that 'rest' has done the hitman the world of good.

At half time Cameron McGeehan was paraded in front of the crowd, having rekindled his love affair with Luton with a loan deal until the end of the season after helping the club to the Conference title during a similar spell last term.

Town looked odds on to finish off Carlisle after the break and, up until the hour mark, they were rampant as rabbits, without ever finding the Valentine's Day sweet spot.

Then Wilkinson took one for the team, cynically impeding Sweeney with the United man eyeing a run on goal.

It could have been panic stations for Town, who had been untroubled, but Carlisle couldn't make the most of their advantage, while Andy Drury came a whisker away from the goal of the season.

His stunning volley slammed into the crossbar, post and somehow stayed out before Cullen turned the rebound home, only to be ruled offside.

But the Hatters saw out the game in relative ease and with defeats for both Wycombe and Southend above them in the League Two table, they moved back up to fourth place and one point off the automatic promotion places and that, on the supposed most romantic day of the year, is something to set the heart a flutter.

Dunstable Town lose eight goal thriller to visiting Magpies

FOOTBALL

BY NICK SMITH
sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

FOR the second straight week Dunstable Town's porous defence hit them hard.

Following on from last weekend's 6-2 drubbing at the hands of Hungerford Town, they let in five in their Southern League Premier Division clash at home to Dorchester Town with issues at the back coupled with indiscipline the cause of their demise.

The Magpies were 5-3 winners in the high scoring contest at Creasey Park.

Dunstable were 3-1 up at one point, but a few crazy minutes at the end of the half turned the game on its head.

Elliot Bailey gave Dunstable an early lead and after Ben Watson had levelled for the Magpies, Jamal McKenzie-Lowe struck twice for the hosts to put them in command.

However, momentum changed when Dorchester forward Jake Sneeton was brought down in the box and a penalty was given.

His initial attempt from the spot was saved, but he managed to bury the rebound.

Just minutes later, Dunstable captain Shane Blackett was sent off for a two footed challenge.

After the restart, Dorchester smelled blood against the ten men and soon equalised through Sam Lanahan.

With just over an hour gone the visitors took the lead against after a goalmouth scramble with Chris Dillon credited with the finish.

Brad Tarbuck, who nearly got the final touch for the visitors' fourth, was determined to make sure he ended up on the scoresheet. Just minutes later, he fired home Dorchester's fifth and final goal following a mazy run.

Dunstable are 12th in the division after the reverse with hopes of claiming a play-off spot now looking unlikely as they are 16 points adrift of the top five with games quickly running out.

In the Southern League Division One Central,

Barton Rovers' game against Marlow was called off for a waterlogged pitch.

AFC Dunstable were not in action in the Spartan South Midlands Premier Division but three local sides did take to the field in Division Two.

There was an afternoon to forget for The 61 FC (Luton) who were hammered 5-0 at Pitstone & Ivinghoe, but Totternhoe were 3-1 winners at home to Ealing Town.

Kent Athletic also enjoyed a win, and it was a big one as they thrashed hosts Wolverton Town 7-1.

Permanent deal for Cam is the plan now for Still

BACK: Cameron McGeehan at Kenilworth Road yesterday.

HATTERS

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE
sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

LUTON manager John Still revealed that the club will work to turn Cameron McGeehan's second loan spell into a permanent deal at the end of the season.

The midfielder was paraded in front of the Kenilworth Road crowd at half time during the 1-0 win over Carlisle United, having penned a temporary deal that will keep him in Bedfordshire until the end of the campaign.

The 19-year-old, who helped Luton claim the Conference title last term during a loan spell from parent club Norwich, was the player that the Hatters had tried to sign on transfer deadline day without success.

He had spent last month on loan at Cambridge United and played against Town in the 3-2 win for Luton, but after McGeehan's return, Still said: "I think we'll be working to get something in place to make that permanent."

"It's something that we've been trying to do and something that we've worked hard to do. I've done my bit and, in fairness, to the club and [managing director] Gary Sweet, they've worked really, really hard to try to do the transfer."

"It's a way that I'm trying to go, by Pelly [Ruddock Mpanzu], by Michael Harriman, by Luke Wilkinson, by Cameron McGeehan and by Mark Cullen, who are all of an age that I want to get to. I can't do that overnight but as and when I identify them that's what we will try to do."

"We are on our way to doing that."

Cullen, who scored the winner against the Cumbrians, said: "It's nice to have Cam back."

"He's a nice lad. He did cracking here last year and hopefully he can do the same this season as well."

"It was a badly kept secret that he always wanted to come back, so it's nice to have him back."

"He's a cracking player and he had a good loan spell at Cambridge, so hopefully he can bring the form he showed there, here, and help the team out."

On the victory, in which Town played for 25 minutes with ten men after Wilkinson was sent off, Still said: "You win games in all sorts of ways."

"It's not easy playing with ten men but we had some good patches of play with ten men."

But after the club failed in appealing captain Steve McNulty's red card from Tuesday's 2-2 draw with York, Still said of Wilkinson's dismissal: "From what I saw, I've got no complaints."
